These are some of the songs I wrote from 1997 to 2005 that went into the DROD games. I've listened to them so many times it's impossible for me to tell if they're any good. I mean, of course I like them because they were custom-made to satisfy my own musical cravings. But do other people like them? Well, at least 13 people do. (We took an internet poll to decide if it was worth making the CD, and that was the tally of people who said they'd buy it.) Titled the CD "volume 1" is optimistic, but I figure if there ever is a "volume 2" then I can't retroactively reprint all the jewel case covers to say "volume 1". So this way, I am only in danger of looking slightly silly if we never put out another music CD.

Enjoy the tunes! I was going to tell you what they are all about, but then you would have a harder time using them to bring up images of Beethro tromping around in the Great Beneath!
